PROGRAM VARIOUS
POWERS AT ARMS

U. S. SINCERELY WANTS AN AGREEMENT TO LIMIT ARMAMENT—AIMS OF OTHER NATIONS

(By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 4.—An authoritative summary of the programs the big powers expect to stand by in the conference on limitation of armaments, was obtained today by the United Press.

The programs indicated that big difficulties lie ahead of the conference and this country must steer the parley through a maze of conflicting aims and prejudices. The summary of the programs follow:

United States

This government sincerely desires an agreement among the nations for limitation of naval armaments. It would also limit land armament if this is found to be practical and wants the new agencies of warfare controlled as far as possible.

The United States also wants to each a frank agreement with the powers on principle and policies to govern its action in the far east.

Great Britain

This nation wants a satisfactory solution of the question of renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, one that will satisfy the opposition of the United States to this pact.

Great Britain also would like to have the question of the allied debt of $11,000,000,000 to the United States settled.

This is a question which France and Italy also would like to see taken up by the conference but the United States has no intention of letting this become a problem to be settled by the conference.

Japan

This empire does not intend to have her "place in the sun" in the far east dimmed by the conference and will be wary of any action which would take away her place as an advantageous naval base among the powers or her favorable opportunity of wiping out the present naval superiority of the United States and Great Britain.

France

France wants to trade her agreement to a limitation of land armaments for some guarantee by the powers of her security against another attack by Germany.

Italy

Italy is in close harmony with international policies of the United States.

China

Aside from the individual ambition and schemes of her statesmen China is expected to make great efforts to shake off the foreign control that through the decades has crept into the administration of her country.

NEW YELLOWSTONE
PARK FALLS NAMED
SUSAN B. ANTHONY

NEWLY DISCOVERED, THE TASK OF GIVING THEM A NAME WAS GIVEN MRS. T. G. WINTERS

(By United Press.)

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 4.—A new waterfall 200 feet high recently discovered in Yellowstone National Park will be named "Susan B. Anthony Falls."

Mrs. Thomas G. Winters, of Minneapolis, president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, wired the director of the park today suggesting that name. She had been asked to name the falls in recognition of the work done by the federation to prevent commercializing a certain section of the park. Six falls have been discovered in the park by explorers in almost inaccessible reaches.

Mrs. Winters was here to address the North Dakota Federation of Women's Clubs in state convention. Three hundred delegates representing two hundred clubs were here. The club is celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary.

Rural Women Deepest Thinkers

"Rural women are our deepest thinkers drawing philosophy from experience and not from books," Mrs. Winters told the North Dakota Federation of Women's Clubs today.

"Women of the city, generally speaking, think in ruts." National clubs are a variety in general, she said, but the most encouraging feature in the organization are the rural women.

6,000,000 ON ROSTER
OF WORLD'S ARMIES

Washington, Oct. 4.—Active armies of the 14 most important nations of the world today include approximately 6,000,000 men according to figures obtained here and regarded as reasonably correct. With the inclusion of land armaments, these are the figures with which it is expected the assembled commissioners will have to deal.

While China stands first among the nations in this summary of soldiers actually under arms about Sept. 1 last, being credited with 1,370,000 active troops, France is far ahead among nations not distressed by civil strife, in the number of men with colors. The French army strength is placed at 1,034,000 men, the British empire standing next with 1,000,000. The United States stands 13th with 149,000 men in the regular army, exceeding only Germany, while Italy has 350,000 and Japan 300,000 active troops.

One thing clearly established by these army figures, military experts said, was that the United States alone among the victor nations in the war seems to have completely demobilized.

Guarantee 15 Per Cent Profit

An interesting feature of the contract is that the concern is guaranteed 15 per cent profits. It is allowed to sell in Russia or for export, 15 per cent of its finished products.

The concession amounts to this: The Swedish ball bearing company is going to work for the soviet government. The company provides the patents and factory management and the government provides materials and pays all expenses.

Since 1914 the company has maintained an importing office in Moscow, and before the revolution, it used to send annually $400,000 worth of ball bearings to Russia. Since the revolution imports have fallen to $250,000 annually.

State Presents Evidence
To Show that Mrs. Lydia
Southard Killed Husband

Robert A. Donaldson, Twin Falls, Idaho, Oct. 4.—Additional states evidence which the prosecution claims would show Mrs. Lydia Southard alleged "feminine bluebeard," poisoned her fourth husband to obtain his $10,000 life insurance was presented at her trial today.

Frank Stephen, district attorney declared he would show Mrs. Southard needed the money to complete payment on an automobile she had purchased. H. G. Haight, manager of a ranch who endorsed Mrs. Southard's note, said she told him she would have $10,000 when she sold some Montana land. The state declares Mrs. Southard had no land, and that she counted on her husband's insurance to meet the obligation.

NEW YELLOWSTONE
PARK FALLS NAMED
SUSAN B. ANTHONY

NEWLY DISCOVERED, THE TASK OF GIVING THEM A NAME WAS GIVEN MRS. T. G. WINTERS

(By United Press.)
Fargo, N. D., Oct. 4.—A new waterfall 200 feet high recently discovered in Yellowstone National Park will be named "Susan B. Anthony Falls."

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, of Minneapolis, president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, wired the director of the park today suggesting that name. She had been asked to name the falls in recognition of the work done by the federation to prevent commercializing a certain section of the park. Six falls have been discovered in the park by explorers in almost inaccessible reaches.

Mrs. Winter was here to address the North Dakota Federation of Women's Clubs in state convention. Three hundred delegates representing two hundred clubs were here. The club is celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary.

Rural Women Deepest Thinkers
"Rural women are our deepest thinkers drawing philosophy from experience and not from books," Mrs. Winter told the North Dakota Federation of Women's Clubs today.

"Women of the city, generally speaking, think in ruts."

National clubs are a variety in general, she said, but the most encouraging feature in the organization are the rural women.

6,000,000 ON ROSTER
OF WORLD'S ARMIES

Washington, Oct. 4.—Active armies of the 14 most important nations of the world today include approximately 6,000,000 men according to figures obtained here and regarded as reasonably correct. With the inclusion of land armaments, these are the figures with which it is expected the assembled commissioners will have to deal.

While China stands first among the nations in this summary of soldiers actually under arms about Sept. 1 last, being credited with 1,370,000 active troops, France is far ahead among nations not disarmed by civil strife, in the number of men with colors. The French army strength is placed at 1,634,000 men, the British empire standing next with 1,000,000. The United States stands 13th with 149,000 men in the regular army, exceeding only Germany, while Italy has 350,000 and Japan 300,000 active troops.

One thing clearly established by these army figures, military experts said, was that the United States alone among the victor nations in the war seems to have completely demobilized.

NOTED MODEL ON TRIAL IN ST. LOUIS

(By United Press)
St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 4.—Audrey Munson, wearing a smile and her street clothes, went on trial today for alleged conspiracy to corrupt public morals. She immediately demanded a jury trial, and an examination of prospective jurors disclosed that not one asked to be excused from duty. A great crowd in the courtroom was disappointed when the judge announced she would pose before him and the jurors in the chambers this afternoon.

DELAY FORECAST IN RAIL STRIKE ACTION

LEADERS OF FOUR MORE UNIONS
ASSEMBLE TO BEGIN COUNT-
ING BALLOTS

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Railroad unions will take no action on the strike question before Oct. 10 and possibly not for some time after that date.

This announcement was made by R. M. Jewell, head of the American Federation of Labor, following a conference of executives of the 16 railroad labor organizations.

"Representatives of the four brotherhoods whose strike ballots are yet to be counted, reported that the tabulation would not be completed before Oct. 10. Until the result is known, such unions as already have voted for a walkout will 'mark time,'" he said.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, with 136,000 members, and the federated shop crafts, with about 400,000 members, already have voted to strike.

Leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Enginemen and Firemen, Order of Railway Conductors and the Switchmen's Union of North America assembled here yesterday to begin counting their strike ballots.

BOLSHEVIKI ASK
BIG U. S. FIRM TO RE-
OPEN RUSS PLANT

SOVIET'S REQUEST HELD FIRST
MOVE TO REVIVE BIG FOREIGN OWNED INDUSTRIES

Riga, Oct. 4.—Thomas Anderson, general European manager of the International Harvester company, has accepted the invitation of the Russian soviet government to go to Moscow to discuss resumption of operations of the company's big Russian plant. This is looked upon here as a step of great potentiality for the revival of the big foreign-owned industries in Russia.

Mr. Anderson is expected to leave here next week for Moscow. He will be accompanied by Messrs. McAllister and Danner of the harvester company's European organization. Mr. McAllister was formerly manager of the Moscow factory.

It is understood here that Trade Commissioner Krassin has made the Harvester company an offer under which it can resume operations on the basis of the soviet government furnishing the labor and receiving a percentage of the profits. Reports from Moscow say the plant has been kept in fairly good condition.

Guarantee 15 Per Cent Profit

Moscow, Oct. 4.—The first concession agreement actually completed by the soviet government will be signed in a few days with a Swedish ball bearing company, according to an announcement at the Moscow office of the company. When the remaining formalities are completed, the company will begin to manufacture on the outskirts of Moscow ball bearings in sufficient quantities to supply the demand of Russian industry.

An interesting feature of the contract is that the concern is guaranteed 15 per cent profits. It is allowed to sell in Russia or for export, 15 per cent of its finished products.

The concession amounts to this: The Swedish ball bearing company is going to work for the soviet government. The company provides the patents and factory management and the government provides materials and pays all expenses.

Since 1914 the company has maintained an importing office in Moscow, and before the revolution, it used to send annually $40,000,000 worth of ball bearings to Russia. Since the revolution imports have fallen to $250,000 annually.

TRAGIC DRAMA OF MAN WHO SAYS HE HAS FORGOTTEN

(By United Press.)

Roseburg, Ore., Oct. 4.—Roseburg's own tragic drama of Dr. Jekyll, suspected as Mr. Hyde, will approach its denouement here tomorrow when Dr. Richard Melvin Brumfield, once a popular dentist here, is scheduled to go on trial to answer charges implicating him as the murderer of Dennis Russell, hermit laborer, the night of July 13.

Brumfield came to Roseburg from Indiana, settled down as one of the city's leading dentists, and made for himself an enviable niche as a social lion. He married. For some years matters went smoothly for the Brumfield family. Then it seemed as if all the four-leaf clovers on his ranch just outside the city died at once. His house burned down. Later the new home he built also burned. In each case he had insurance to cover, or nearly to cover the loss.

Then he bought additional land, heaped added financial burdens upon himself until the citizens of Roseburg began to regard him as a man who had the iron nerve to play the game quietly, calmly, for large stakes. He was carrying a big load.

He continued to mingle with the life of the town. He was the leading exponent of the arts, was well-read, well-versed in the lore of poetry, music, and literature.

Then one night wayfarers discovered Brumfield's car aflame at the foot of a steep embankment. Aid was summoned, and there, beneath the car, they found a body wearing Brumfield's ring, his cravat pin, with his keys hanging in the automobile ignition lock, but with the head blown off the body, apparently with dynamite. Sticks of dynamite were found in the car. Search started for Dennis Russell as the murderer of "good ole Doc Brumfield."

Almost everybody agreed it was the Doc's corpse, but some began to doubt. An inquest was held. The town divided. Some said the body was Brumfield's, others said it was Russell's. Men came forward who said they had seen the two together the night of the murder, and heard gun shots, had seen Brumfield bundling something that looked like a corpse into his automobile. The corpse was clothed in Russell's rough working clothes. Russell's letters were found in the pocket.

Broke Up Housekeeping

"We had to break up housekeeping because of my wife's stomach trouble. No medicine did her any good for more than a few hours. On a visit to Oshkosh a friend praised Mayr's Wonderful Remedy so highly my wife tried it and she has enjoyed the best of health since taking it." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and all leading druggists.

The coroner decided the body was that of Russell and, instead of hunting for Russell, they began hunting for Brumfield. A reward of $2,000 was offered.

The "Doc" was found in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, and was brought back here to face trial. He was indicted. But he couldn't remember. He might have committed the murder; if the officers said so, there must be something to it. On the other hand, it seemed to him that had he killed a man he should feel some remorse. He felt none, he said.

He just "couldn't remember." Brumfield confessed to having had attacks of amnesia at recurrent intervals during his life, and they had proved embarrassing. And he could not explain why he had shipped a box of feminine "pretties" to himself at Seattle, under the name of "Norman Whitney"; the alias he assumed while working on an Alberta farm prior to his arrest.

But the authorities say his financial condition when he left Roseburg indicates an entirely different story. They claim he was in debt to a sum exceeding $25,000, and that he was insured for over $31,000. They discovered, they say, that he had borrowed every dime he could get, had mortgaged his real property to the limit, and had drawn his bank balances down to the last dollar. They say he attempted to pose as a corpse so that the insurance money would be paid to his wife and his creditors would be satisfied. He himself, they say, was weary of the grind and wanted freedom from care.

TRAGIC DRAMA OF MAN WHO SAYS HE HAS FORGOTTEN

(By United Press.)

Roseburg, Ore., Oct. 4.—Roseburg's own tragic drama of Dr. Jekyll, suspected as Mr. Hyde, will approach its denouement here tomorrow when Dr. Richard Melvin Brumfield, once a popular dentist here, is scheduled to go on trial to answer charges implicating him as the murderer of Dennis Russell, hermit laborer, the night of July 13.

Brumfield came to Roseburg from Indiana, settled down as one of the city's leading dentists, and made for himself an enviable niche as a social lion. He married. For some years matters went smoothly for the Brumfield family. Then it seemed as if all the four-leaf clovers on his ranch just outside the city died at once. His house burned down. Later the new home he built also burned. In each case he had insurance to cover, or nearly to cover the loss.

Then he bought additional land, heaped added financial burdens upon himself until the citizens of Roseburg began to regard him as a man who had the iron nerve to play the game quietly, calmly, for large stakes. He was carrying a big load.

He continued to mingle with the life of the town. He was the leading exponent of the arts, was well-read, well-versed in the lore of poetry, music, and literature.

Then one night wayfarers discovered Brumfield's car aflame at the foot of a steep embankment. Aid was summoned, and there, beneath the car, they found a body wearing Brumfield's ring, his cravat pin, with his keys hanging in the automobile ignition lock, but with the head blown off the body, apparently with dynamite. Sticks of dynamite were found in the car. Search started for Dennis Russell as the murderer of "good ole Doc Brumfield."

Almost everybody agreed it was Doc's corpse, but some began to doubt. An inquest was held. The town divided. Some said the body was Brumfield's, others said it was Russell's. Men came forward who said they had seen the two together the night of the murder, and heard gun shots, had seen Brumfield bundling something that looked like a corpse into his automobile. The corpse was clothed in Russell's rough working clothes. Russell's letters were found in the pocket.

Broke Up Housekeeping

"We had to break up housekeeping because of my wife's stomach trouble. No medicine did her any good for more than a few hours. On a visit to Oshkosh a friend praised Mayr's Wonderful Remedy so highly my wife tried it and she has enjoyed the best of health since taking it." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and all leading druggists.

The coroner decided the body was that of Russell and, instead of hunting for Russell, they began hunting for Brumfield. A reward of $2,000 was offered. The "Doc" was found in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, and was brought back here to face trial. He was indicted. But he couldn't remember. He might have committed the murder; if the officers said so, there must be something to it. On the other hand, it seemed to him that had he killed a man he should feel some remorse. He felt none, he said.

He just "couldn't remember." Brumfield confessed to having had attacks of amnesia at recurrent intervals during his life, and they had proved embarrassing. And he could not explain why he had shipped a box of feminine "pretties" to himself at Seattle, under the name of "Norman Whitney"; the alias he assumed while working on an Alberta farm prior to his arrest.

But the authorities say his financial condition when he left Roseburg indicates an entirely different story. They claim he was in debt to a sum exceeding $25,000, and that he was insured for over $31,000. They discovered, they say, that he had borrowed every dime he could get, had mortgaged his real property to the limit, and had drawn his bank balances down to the last dollar. They say he attempted to pose as a corpse so that the insurance money would be paid to his wife and his creditors would be satisfied. He himself, they say, was weary of the grind and wanted freedom from care.

WANT WOMAN ON DISARMAMENT PARLEY

The members of Brainerd Review No. 10, who are the local representatives of the Woman's Benefit Association, announce the news that their founder and leader, Miss Bina M. West, has been prominently and persistently presented to President Harding as the one woman in the United States fitted by special training and experience for a seat on the Advisory Conference Committee for Limited Armament.

Miss West was approached on this subject by her friends in the National Fraternal Congress of America which convened at the Hotel Sherman, Chicago, Ill., the first week in September. The delegates to this congress represent over nine million fraternalists and they stand back of the appointment.

Miss West is perhaps the best known woman in the United States. Her thirty years of leadership in a society numbering a quarter of a million women has drawn on her superlative talents and developed her mentally to a degree unusual in women. She has never been associated with any faction, nor is she a theorist, two attributes that will count with President Harding in making the appointment.

The local members are very proud of the recognition that has been given Miss West's abilities in the enthusiastic presentation of her name over the country, and during the past few days Commander Mrs. Anna Dieckhaus and her entire corps of officers and members have been busy getting in touch with Senator Frank B. Kellogg, Representative Steve Gartner and Congressman Harold Knutson, requesting their endorsement.

CONSERVATION

By DR. WM. E. BARTON

Competition has forced men at the head of nearly every business to take up the slack and reduce the margin of waste. Treatises are written showing how firms now earn their entire dividend out of what they formerly wasted.

There are plans for the conservation of raw material and plans for the conservation of the finished article, and for its more economical merchandising and the better utilization of all the elements that enter into production and distribution.

But what I should like to see would be a better utilization of the human factor in the investment.

I am convinced that many a man could get twice as much productive energy out of his own personality as he now does if he knew how.

I do not advocate the working of more hours, not the forcing of the human machine at higher gear. I would rather reduce the hours of labor and have the work done under less nervous strain.

In the first place, I believe that work done in the early morning is the most productive work. If a man will rise early, face the day's work with calm assurance that he is equal to the job, eat a light breakfast, and take up the big job while the mind is fresh, the back of the day's work may be broken before the middle of the forenoon.

It is a mistake to begin the day with little, trivial, fretting matters. The hours of high courage and full mental and physical vigor should be sacred to the great tasks.

Then I believe a man should believe that the day is long enough and that his own energy is sufficient to give him a successful day. He should use that day for all it is worth.

When the day's work is done, he should quit.

God can take care of the world until morning. It is His job.

No man is under obligation to take the Atlas load upon his back and bear it all day and all night.

A little calm faith, a little quiet trust, a little assurance that "as thy day, so shall thy strength be" is a big cash asset in production.

I am not the advocate of any patient correspondence course in business psychology. But I have learned at some cost a few things that have greatly increased my own powers of production, and I know that some men do not know them.

They are very simple, and can be had for nothing except the effort and firm desire to possess them.

TOWN BOARDS RESPONSIBLE

New Points in Enforcement of Noxious Weed Law is Stated to the Public

Lots of folks don't seem to fully realize that the situation with respect to the enforcement of the Noxious Weed Law is different from what it has been for the past twenty-five or more years. One item in particular is provoking a lot of discussion. This is the responsibility on the part of the township boards for the cutting of weeds along the roadsides. Until the passage of Chapter 320-S, F. 422, Laws of 1921, roadsides weeds were supposed to have been cut by the abutting property owners and the town board members, village council and such officers were authorized to notify the property owners to destroy the weeds. Now under the provisions of Chapter 320 (repealed above) it is obligatory on the town boards to cut or cause to be cut all noxious weeds along the road side.

(Sec. 4) The governing of each town, village, borough or city, shall at the expense of such municipality, cause all noxious weeds standing or growing upon any public road or highway therein to be cut down between the first day of June and the 15th day of October following as often as may be necessary to prevent the ripening and scattering of seed of noxious weeds.

Obviously the members of the town boards did not wish to offend friends and neighbors by ordering them out to cut the weeds even though a large majority of the farmers favor the procedure as provided in former law. As a result most of the roadsides were neglected until weed seeds had ripened. Thus the old story "Everybody's business is nobody's business."

Now it is to be different. The law plainly states that the cutting of roadside weeds is up to the town board of the respective township and the administration of the law is in the hands of state officials. Hence no danger of creating a neighborhood "feeling" is likely to develop. The local weed inspector notifies the members of the town board just as he would a farmer or city lot owner. If they do not comply with the notice and get the weeds cut, the law may take its course.

The new law was passed on the assumption that united action was the basic principle in noxious weed control. Those who want to see weed under control and voluntarily attempt to keep them in check will welcome the law and its enforcement. Those who are indifferent or neglectful of weeds will be willing to be reminded and will fall into line for the universal effort. Those who do not sense their responsibility to our fellow men must be reminded of the fact and be brought to the point of realizing that this weed problem is not any one individual's, but one demanding the attention of every land holder—country or city, and of those who have charge of lands such as public parks, roads, streets and alleys.

New Points in Enforcement of Noxious Weed Law is Stated to the Public

Lots of folks don't seem to fully realize that the situation with respect to the enforcement of the Noxious Weed Law is different from what it has been for the past twenty-five or more years. One item in particular is provoking a lot of discussion. This is the responsibility on the part of the township boards for the cutting of weeds along the roadside. Until the passage of Chapter 320-S, F. 422, Laws of 1921, roadside weeds were supposed to have been cut by the abutting property owners and the town board members, village council and such officers were authorized to notify the property owners to destroy the weeds. Now under the provisions of Chapter 320 (cited above) it is obligatory on the town boards to cut or cause to be cut all noxious weeds along the road side.

(Sec. 4) The governing of each town, village, borough or city, shall at the expense of such municipality, cause all noxious weeds standing or growing upon any public road or highway therein to be cut down between the first day of June and the 15th day of October following as often as may be necessary to prevent the ripening and scattering of seed of noxious weeds.

Obviously the members of the town boards did not wish to offend friends and neighbors by ordering them out to cut the weeds even though a large majority of the farmers favor the procedure as provided in former laws. As a result most of the roadsides were neglected until weed seeds had ripened. Thus the old story "Everybody's business is nobody's business."

Now it is to be different. The law plainly states that the cutting of roadside weeds is up to the town board of the respective township and the administration of the law is in the hands of state officials. Hence no danger of creating a neighborhood "feeling" is likely to develop. The local weed inspector notifies the members of the town board just as he would a farmer or city lot owner. If they do not comply with the notice and get the weeds cut, the law may take its course.

The new law was passed on the assumption that united action was the basic principle in noxious weed control. Those who want to see weed under control and voluntarily attempt to keep them in check will welcome the law and its enforcement. Those who are indifferent or neglectful of weeds will be willing to be reminded and will fall into line for the universal effort. Those who do not sense their responsibility to our fellow men must be reminded of the fact and be brought to the point of realizing that this weed problem is not any one individual's, but one demanding the attention of every land holder—country or city, and of those who have charge of lands such as public parks, roads, streets and alleys.

CROSBY WANTS ANOTHER COMMISSIONER

Our enterprising neighbors in the thriving village of Crosby have, we understand, started a movement to secure a larger representation on the board of county commissioners. It is claimed that statistics compiled by a special committee of the Crosby Commercial club show that the range end of the county is entitled to a larger representation than it has been getting, and the commissioners will be petitioned at an early date to re-district the county and "give the residents of this end of it a more equitable representation."

The Crosby people point out that the 1920 census shows the entire population of the county to be 24,566, and the population of each commissioner district should therefore be in the neighborhood of 5,000 people. District No. 5, in which Crosby is located, they claim, has a population of 10,093—"nearly half that of the entire county"—and yet it is represented on the board of county commissioners by only one commissioner. "On the other hand," they say, "Brainerd, with some 400 less souls, gets two commissioners, and under the present sitting has practically three—District No. 2 being represented by a man residing in, or just outside of, Ward 1 of the city of Brainerd."

From all of which it will be seen that there is likely to be an unusually interesting session of the county commissioners at an early date.

AMERICAN INDUSTRIES MENACED

Information from European sources to the effect that German competition is prestrating European industry is being confirmed by Americans who are returning from Europe.

"By common consent," the reports indicate, "Germany is the busiest section of Europe. It has no unemployment problem, while the question of lagging industries is becoming more serious in practically every other European nation. It is generally agreed this is largely due to inroads made by Germany manufactured products upon the industries of her European neighbors."

These reports are giving great concern to those who are interested in the problem of alleviating unemployment. That this situation will have a serious effect upon industry in this country unless we have an import tax to protect American manufacturers cannot be doubted. It would also be difficult, if not impossible, for Americans to compete with German products in foreign markets under these circumstances.

In addition to this situation abroad is the demand from a certain class of American importers and large dealers handling foreign goods to permit European countries to have an unrestricted market in the United States. If this is done it means American industries which are now active will be compelled to curtail their operations or shut down entirely, as every article of foreign make sold in this country kills the sale of a like article of American make, which lessens by that much the output of American factories and increases the number of idle men.

BUSINESS CONTINUES TO IMPROVE

During September American business conditions improved decidedly in the view of the Federal Reserve board, which has made public a distinctly optimistic review of conditions for the month. In this review important changes for the better were seen in the credit situation, "distinct encouragement" in many basic business lines, and strong liquidation indicating increased ability of business to settle its accounts.

A marked improvement in the credit situation is cited as the noteworthy feature of business during the month, and the board declares that "taken all in all, from a financial standpoint, the month has been in the main a period of distinct encouragement." Only a slight increase in employment is noted in the 30 days, but the outlook is regarded optimistically.

LOWER INTEREST RATES

Practically every nation in the world has now followed the example of the Federal Reserve banks in the United States in lowering the discount rate. It is held in financial circles that the lowering of interest rates is a powerful incentive for borrowing capital needed in the rebuilding of the commercial and industrial institutions which were left a wreck by the war.

The organization of a state-wide grain pool, under the direction of the marketing department of the State Department of Agriculture, will be asked for by the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, in case the dispute between the federation and the Equity Co-operative Exchange is not settled satisfactorily this week. The request, it is understood, will be granted.

An increase in telephone rates may be expected, according to Fred W. Putnam, member of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission. He is quoted as saying that the valuation hearings of the Northwestern and Tri-State Telephone companies "likely will not result in lower than the present temporary rates, but probably will bring higher rates."

AMUSEMENTS

Don't Miss Seeing "The Woman He Chose" at Lyceum Tonight

"The Woman He Chose," a picturization of the well-known story, "The Girl From the Marsh Croft," by Selma Lagerlof, is truly an amazing play and has an astounding cast of wizard actors who simply live, not act, their parts on the screen.

The picture, the photography, the acting, in fact, everything connected with it is really a miracle—it's a play as unexpected as it is unusual; so different, so daring, and so unlike any other. "The Woman He Chose" closes its run at the Lyceum tonight. One immediately feels a touch of a great master in this inspired creation and one also feels the ring of truth.

Shirley Mason at Lyceum Wednesday and Thursday

Ever since Eve tasted the apple of the Garden of Eden the world has been trying to understand the feminine sex. Our ancient ancestor, Adam, could no more understand the Eve of his day than we can understand the modern Eve. We do know, however, that at the glorious age of seventeen or eighteen, she is presenting her greatest charm. She can play at love, encourage romances, pretend being fickle, and capture men's hearts for the sake of giving expression to her subtle whims and fancies. "Ever Since Eve" is a pretty romance of the present day type of heroine and stars dainty Shirley Mason, who has a role ideally suited for her personality. The picture comes to the Lyceum theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Big "Earthbound" Scene Started Even Pershing

The scene in "Earthbound," Basil King's great film story, in which one man pays the penalty for his affair with another man's wife, is a bit of dramatic acting which in tragic intensity has seldom been equalled on stage or screen. "Earthbound" is at the New Park theatre again today.

Even General Pershing, who was being shown through the studio the day the scene was taken, was startled by its realism, and praised the work of the participants in the highest terms.

Nicholas Desborough, played by Wyndham Standing, had betrayed the confidence of his old friend Jim Rittenshaw (Mahlon Hamilton). The two men meet half way up the long stairway in the prominent club of which both are members and Rittenshaw shoots on sight.

The shots bring to their feet the startled men in the various rooms of the club, bringing them to the lobby to stare fascinated at the victim, bewildered, dying even as he stands there, facing the one-time friend who shot him.

Then, straight backward he falls, as a log would topple, and rolls to the floor below. There is no crumpling, but a sickening, unbending crash to the steps.

Drama, pathos, tragedy, are in this scene. It is but one episode in a story which, throughout, stirs human emotion to the depths.

At the New Park Tomorrow

That mother love may triumph even when science has failed is the story told in "The Woman in His House," a remarkable photoplay which will be the attraction at the New Park theatre beginning tomorrow. It deals with the sacrifice and devotion which went to the cure of a child who science had said would always be a hopeless cripple. An all-star cast appears in this picture, headed by Mildred Harris, who plays

TUBERCULOSIS

By DR. R. H. BISHOP

Tuberculosis is most commonly taken by young children from tuberculous parents, relatives or friends, who kiss and caress them, or from floors, food, clothing or other articles which have been contaminated with tuberculous sputum.

It is probable that four out of five children are infected in this way, and that one out of ten is infected from the meat or milk of tuberculous animals.

The drift of opinion of medical investigators is toward the belief that tuberculosis is essentially a disease of childhood. That all who are infected with the disease in childhood, however, do not suffer from it in later life is due to the fact that their general health has been maintained by nutritious food, fresh air, sufficient sleep, lack of worry and overwork and that they have not been subjected to the depressing effects of other infectious diseases, such as measles, whooping cough, typhoid fever, pneumonia, etc., whereby their resistance to the tubercle bacillus and its poison has been diminished.

Tuberculosis is curable if treated early. The tendency of the best physicians of today is to limit the treatment to open air by day and night, sunlight, cleanliness of person and surroundings, rest in bed when necessary, and sufficient wholesome food. Children, be they tubercular, anemic or well, thrive and make more rapid progress in their work in open air

It is estimated that approximately 150,000 people die of tuberculosis every year in the United States. It is a disease that always fights from ambush. To beat such an enemy it is necessary not only to know the facts concerning right living but to practice them every minute of every day. Children do not know these facts and if they did they would be unable to apply them. For this reason so many children are victims in childhood or in later life.

The commonest early symptoms are a persistent cold or cough, continued hoarseness, loss of weight and appetite, a rundown, tired feeling, persistent pain in the chest, afternoon temperature, night sweats, spitting of blood.

AMUSEMENTS

Don't Miss Seeing "The Woman He Chose" at Lyceum Tonight
"The Woman He Chose," a pictureization of the well-known story, "The Girl From the Marsh Croft," by Selma Lagerlof, is truly an amazing play, and has an astounding cast of wizard actors who simply live, not act, their parts on the screen.

The picture, the photography, the acting, in fact, everything connected with it is really a miracle—it's a play as unexpected as it is unusual; so different; so daring, and so unlike any other. "The Woman He Chose" closes its run at the Lyceum tonight. One immediately feels a touch of a great master in this inspired creation and one also feels the ring of truth.

Shirley Mason at Lyceum Wednesday and Thursday

Ever since Eve tasted the apple of the Garden of Eden the world has been trying to understand the feminine sex. Our ancient ancestor, Adam, could no more understand the Eve of his day than we can understand the modern Eve. We do know, however, that at the glorious age of seventeen or eighteen, she is presenting her greatest charm. She can play at love, encourage romances, pretend being fickle, and capture men's hearts for the sake of giving expression to her subtle whims and fancies. "Ever Since Eve" is a pretty romance of the present day type of heroine and stars dainty Shirley Mason, who has a role ideally suited for her personality. The picture comes to the Lyceum theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Big "Earthbound" Scene Startled Even Pershing

The scene in "Earthbound," Basil King's great film story, in which one man pays the penalty for his affair with another man's wife, is a bit of dramatic acting which in tragic intensity has seldom been equaled on stage or screen. "Earthbound" is at the New Park theatre again today.

Even General Pershing, who was being shown through the studio the day the scene was taken, was startled by its realism, and praised the work of the participants in the higher terms.

Nicholas Desborough, played by Wyndham Standing, had betrayed the confidence of his old friend Jim Rittenshaw (Mahlon Hamilton). The two men meet half way up the long stairway in the "prominent club of which both are members and Rittenshaw shoots on sight.

The shots bring to their feet the startled men in the various rooms of the club, bringing them to the lobby to stare fascinated at the victim, bewildered, dying even as he stands there, facing the one-time friend who shot him.

Then, straight backward he falls, as a log would topple, and rolls to the floor below. There is no crumpling, but a sickening, unbending crash to the steps.

At the New Park Tomorrow

That mother love may triumph even when science has failed is the story told in "The Woman in His House," a remarkable photoplay which will be the attraction at the New Park theatre beginning tomorrow. It deals with the sacrifice and devotion which went to the cure of a child who science had said would always be a hopeless cripple. An all-star cast appears in this picture, headed by Mildred Harris, who plays

The other principal players are Thomas Holding, George Fisher, Gereth Hughes, Winter Hall, Catherine Van Buren, Bob Walker and Little Richard Hedrick. The latter has the part of the afflicted child. The locale embraces the picturesque, rock-bound coast of Eastern Canada, and the home and environment of the busy New York physician. "The Woman in His House" is a Louis B. ## TUBERCULOSIS

Tuberculosis is most commonly taken by young children from tuberculous parents, relatives or friends, who kiss and caress them, or from floors, food, clothing or other articles which have been contaminated with tuberculous sputum.

It is probable that four out of five children are infected in this way, and that one out of ten is infected from the meat or milk of tuberculous animals.

The drift of opinion of medical investigators is toward the belief that tuberculosis is essentially a disease of childhood. That all who are infected with the disease in childhood, however, do not suffer from it in later life is due to the fact that their general health has been maintained by nutritious food, fresh air, sufficient sleep, lack of worry and overwork and that they have not been subjected to the depressing effects of other infectious diseases, such as measles, whooping cough, typhoid fever, pneumonia, etc., whereby their resistance to the tubercle bacillus and its poison has been diminished.

Tuberculosis is curable if treated early. The tendency of the best physicians of today is to limit the treatment to open air by day and night, sunlight, cleanliness of person and surroundings, rest in bed when necessary, and sufficient wholesome food. Children, be they tubercular, anemic or well, thrive and make more rapid progress in their work in open air

OF SECURITIES

AMERICANS HAVE PURCHASED
$16,000,000 WORTH IN
NINE YEARS

By ALBERT APPLE
New York, Oct. 4.—Despite depression, the public is investing twice as much money in corporation securities as in 1913.

Investors now are buying stocks, notes and bonds at the rate of $2,600,000,000 a year, not counting government financing.

Since July, sales of securities have slumped heavily. But that always happens at this time of year. Brokers look for the usual seasonal pick-up this autumn, though on a smaller scale than in recent years.

Sales Since 1912
Americans have bought nearly $16,000,000,000 worth of business securities since Jan. 1, 1913.

Sales in 1920 were bigger than in any previous year, though business was steadily stagnating in the last seven months of the year.

So far in 1921, April has the record, with $290,000,000.

Securities marketed in the last 60 days are at a rate of about $1.40 a month for every man, woman and child in the country.

Promoters Active
Financing of enormous enterprises is being arranged for, in anticipation of business revival.

New businesses organized so far this year have total authorized capitalization of about $6,300,000,000. This figure covers only concerns with capital of $100,000 or more.

Since 1913, new business enterprises have been formed with a total authorized capital of about $50,000,000,000.

Comparing that with securities actually sold, it appears that, on the average, when $50 worth of capital is authorized by a new business, only $16 of securities actually are sold.

DETROIT MAKING
STREETS SAFE

COOPERATION OF AUTOISTS, POLICE AND PUBLIC REDUCES
ACCIDENTS BY HALF
(By N. E. A. Service.)

Detroit, Oct. 4.—Cooperation between motorists, pedestrians and the police department has made it 50 per cent safer to live in Detroit today than it was a year ago.

Police records show that during the first eight months of this year there were 80 fatal traffic accidents. During the corresponding period a year ago 161 persons were killed in traffic mishaps.

Every Detroit motorist knows he doesn't stand one chance in 100 of escaping at least an explanation to the police if he is in an accident.

He knows punishment is practically certain to follow the injury of another person as a result of his carelessness. He knows every member of the police department is on guard, and that even ordinary civilians have been deputized to aid in enforcing the law. Consequently autoists respect the state laws and local ordinances.

Depression Helps
Business conditions also have changed the mental attitude of the public, particularly of chauffeurs, and they're driving more carefully than ever before, according to George A. Walters, deputy police commissioner, and author of Detroit's traffic laws.

"When jobs were plentiful, employees of firms drove their autos recklessly. If they smashed their employers' machines in an accident, they were not afraid of losing their jobs. Now they are more cautious."

Within the last year 1000 reckless drivers were prosecuted and 400 drivers' licenses suspended.

Accident Bureau
"Detroit's police accident investigation bureau is an entirely original idea, and so far as I know, is not employed in any other large city in the country," says Walters.

"The sole duty of a score of men is to investigate every traffic accident, even though no complaint has been made by the injured person."

"Charges of manslaughter, negligent homicide or reckless driving are entered against every person responsible for traffic deaths and injuries. Unwilling civilian witnesses of the accident are forced to go into court and testify in these cases."

To enlist the aid of the public the police department has placed complaint cards in practically every drug store in the city.

Any person witnessing a violation of traffic laws, or an accident, is urged to describe the case and mail the card to the police.

The informant's name is kept secret, but the information is used by the investigation squad, and action taken immediately against the offender.

IF BACK HURTS USE
SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Bothers

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

DETROIT MAKING STREETS SAFE

COOPERATION OF AUTOISTS, POLICE AND PUBLIC REDUCES
ACCIDENTS BY HALF

(By N. E. A. Service.)

Detroit, Oct. 4.—Cooperation between motorists, pedestrians and the police department has made it 50 per cent safer to live in Detroit today than it was a year ago.

Police records show that during the first eight months of this year there were 80 fatal traffic accidents. During the corresponding period a year ago 161 persons were killed in traffic mishaps.

Every Detroit motorist knows he doesn't stand one chance in 100 of escaping at least an explanation to the police if he is in an accident.

He knows punishment is practically certain to follow the injury of another person as a result of his carelessness. He knows every member of the police department is on guard, and that even ordinary civilians have been deputized to aid in enforcing the law. Consequently autoists respect the state laws and local ordinances.

Depression Helps

Business conditions also have changed the mental attitude of the public, particularly of chauffeurs, and they are driving more carefully than ever before, according to George A. Walters, deputy police commissioner, and other of Detroit's traffic laws.

"When jobs were plentiful, employees of firms drove their autos recklessly. If they smashed their employers' machines in an accident, they were not afraid of losing their jobs. Now they are more cautious."

Within the last year 1000 reckless drivers were prosecuted and 400 drivers' licenses suspended.

Accident Bureau

Detroit's police accident investigation bureau is an entirely original idea, and so far as I know, is not employed in any other large city in the country," says Walters.

"The sole duty of a score of men is to investigate every traffic accident, even though no complaint has been made by the injured person."

"Charges of manslaughter, negligent homicide or reckless driving are entered against every person responsible for traffic deaths and injuries. Unwilling civilian witnesses of the accident are forced to go into court and testify in these cases."

To enlist the aid of the public the police department has placed complaint cards in practically every drug store in the city.

Any person witnessing a violation of traffic laws, or an accident, is urged to describe the case and mail the card to the police.

The informant's name is kept secret, but the information is used by the investigation squad, and action taken immediately against the offender.

Ancients Measured Rainfall

Regular measurements of rainfall were made in India in the Fourth century, B. C., and in Palestine in the First Century, A. D. A rain gauge used in Korea in the Fifth century of our era is still extant.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If Kidneys Feel Like
Lead or Bladder
Bothers

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

ELECTRIC SERVICE IN WEST BRAINERD

Petitioners Told by Water & Light Board Can Have Improvement on North Side Tracks

IF THEY LOAN BOARD $500

Parochial School Given Water Rate of 30c Thousand Gallons—Other Matters Up

All members of the water and light board and secretary were present at the meeting held Monday evening.

A delegation from West Brainerd asked for electric current on the north side of the tracks. Thirteen had signed the application. The expenditure for this improvement was estimated at about $1,000. The board determined that if the petitioners can raise $500 and loan it to the board at interest until after the new year, the board will do the work.

The tailors John Holvick and Jens Molstad asked for a rate on tailors' irons. The old rate of 6-1/2c per kilowatt for tailors' irons was restored to them as they cannot come under the 4c rate, not having appliances of sufficient voltage.

Con O'Brien and M. E. Ryan appeared for the parochial school and asked for a water rate. They were granted the 30c a thousand gallons rate from April, 1921, the same rate given the public schools.

Ed Gruenhagen asked for a water rate for a watering trough to be installed on Front street between 8th and 9th streets and was granted an annual nominal rate of $5.

The matter of drinking fountains was discussed and the board directed their installation as soon as the council approved the annual charge of $25. It is planned to put one fountain at the city hall and one at the Y. M. C. A.

Jacob Kaupp was given a manufacturers' rate of 20c per thousand gallons of water or $20 per month continuous rate.

A resolution was adopted covering a loan from the sinking fund commissioners amounting to $5,000, to be paid back monthly and in full before June 1, 1922.

A joint pole agreement with the Northwestern Bell Telephone company was discussed and definite action deferred until a meeting can be held with the telephone company.

BREDENBERG NAMED 'ON SCHOOL BOARD

Succeeds W. T. McCloskey of Fourth Ward Who Resigned After Removal to St. Paul

WATER RATE IN ARGUMENT
School Board Willing to Pay 20c a Thousand Gallons for Service and Not 30c

All members of the school board were present Monday evening at the regular monthly meeting except W. T. McCloskey and Fred Drexler. President George D. LaBar presided.

The resignation of W. T. McCloskey, member of the fourth ward, was accepted, the latter having removed to St. Paul. The board proceeded to elect his successor for the unexpired term.

The informal ballot gave K. S. Bredenberg 7 votes and J. F. Williams 1 vote. A formal ballot showed the same result and Mr. Bredenberg was declared elected.

The Northeast Brainerd Improvement League asked permission to hold a meeting in the Lowell school building in October, and it was granted.

The finance committee was authorized to make temporary loans amounting to $13,000 or whatever part of same was needed.

The resignation of Miss Wally Oberg, grade teacher of the Lowell school was accepted.

The building committee reported on progress at the Mill school. It was nearing completion and the contractor expected to finish it within the time limit of October 15th.

The building committee further reported entering into a contract with the Gruenhagen company to install hot water heating in the Lowell school for $260.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the secretary to renew the workmen's compensation liability insurance covering workmen employed by the school in the district.

The secretary reported that upon tendering the voucher to apply on the water meter readings as allowed by the board at the last meeting, that the secretary of the water and light board refused to accept same for the reason that the school board figured the allowance at a 20c rate instead of a 30c rate.

The school board voted to allow Chief of Police Varner compensation to act as truancy officer, as has been the practice in the past.

The purchasing committee was authorized to buy two additional typewriters for use in the commercial department.

The board discussed the levy in view of possible state aid obtainable, it was not known exactly how much of a levy should be authorized. A committee consisting of the superintendent, W. C. Cobb, and the chairman of the finance committee, F. V. Hagberg, were directed to go to St. Paul and interview officials of the department of education and the attorney general relative to financial matters in this school district. The committee, if they deem it advisable may take with them F. E. Ebner as legal adviser. The committee is to report at the adjourned regular meeting of the school board Saturday evening, October 8, at 8 o'clock.

CHOSEN AS MODEL FOR SOLDIER STATUE

Although he was one of the boys who came back, a stone likeness of the St. Paul soldier, Sophus V. Arneson, stands an unending shift of guard in a cemetery in France where some of the veterans lie.

Arneson was chosen by Jo Davidson, sculptor, to typify America's soldiery, and posed as the model for this statue, now at Suresmos cemetery.

It was an easier war for Arneson after he was "discovered," says the St. Paul Dispatch which publishes a picture of the monument. Arneson was immune from Paris military police, and his quarters were the envy of colonels.

The Suresmos statue was dedicated on Memorial Day, 1919, by President Wilson who was then in France.

Arneson is a brother of James Arneson, former newspaper publisher and former Commissioner of Immigration, whose family spent the summer at Hubert Lake. Another brother is Oscar Arneson, chief clerk of the Minnesota House of Representatives. His mother lives at Barrett, Minn.

(By United Press)

That she was docked still more when she had the toothache and her face swelled up.

And that still more of her salary was withheld when she laughed right in the lens of the camera when the director told her to cry.
